A shortcake made with a light, moist sponge and plenty of seasonal fruits. We created it so that the sponge, made with honey harvested at Kyoto Higuchi Apiary in Fushimi, the gently sweet cream made with kibi cane sugar, and the fruits, which change with the seasons, come together in perfect balance. It is a cake you can enjoy anew each time the season changes. We hope it becomes part of your memories of a special day, such as an anniversary or birthday with someone dear to you ♪

Whole Cake with Seasonal Citrus and Lemon Curd

A whole cake generously layered with our homemade lemon curd. The lemon curd is also used in our lemon cake, one of Parade's top recommended products, and we paid careful attention to the balance between the lemon curd and the fresh cream. When the lemon curd comes together with the fresh cream and the gently sweet sponge, the tartness and sweetness harmonize into a light texture, making this a cake that will keep you reaching for one more bite, and then another.
